1. Feeding and watering of deer and other wild animals are prohibited in the District.
  2. Bird feeders are not prohibited, but must be elevated so as not to be accessible to wild animals.

Section 17 – Water Conservation

- A. Purpose. The District lies in a mountainous area of the Chihuahuan desert subject to long droughts. Additionally, there is increasing competition from nearby communities and development for potable water supplies. The intent of the regulations in this section is to address public health, safety, and general welfare issues that arise from the use of available supplies of potable water in structures and landscaping.
- B. Interior water use.
1. Reverse Osmosis and Filtration systems. Reverse Osmosis system use pressure and a membrane to pass drinking quality water through the system. The brine discharge (waste) from household Reverse Osmosis systems ranges between 4 and 10 gallons for every gallon of drinking quality water produced. Filtration systems use replaceable filters that catch and hold the impurities.
    - a. Systems permitted in all zones.
      - (1) Whole house and drinking water filter systems that use replaceable filters. This avoids wasting water through brine discharge.

(2) Reverse Osmosis systems that provide water only for human and pet consumption are permitted. Reverse Osmosis systems shall be connected to drinking water and ice dispensers exclusively.

b. Systems prohibited in all zones. Reverse Osmosis systems intended to provide water for purposes other than human consumption are prohibited in new construction. Use, replacement and upgrade of existing systems is permitted but is discouraged. This includes “full-house” Reverse Osmosis systems.

b. Prohibited control units. Timer based water softeners that recharge at fixed time intervals regardless of water usage are prohibited in new construction. Use of existing systems is permitted but is discouraged.

3. Hot Water Systems.

a. Permitted design. Hot water systems that provide immediate hot water at the tap. This includes systems that:

(1) Heat water at point of use.

(2) Continuously recirculate hot water between the heater and the tap.

b. Prohibited design. Hot water systems that require the user to wait for hot water to transit the hot water line from heater to tap are prohibited in new construction. Using or replacing an existing system is allowed, but is discouraged. Retrofitting using a permitted design is strongly encouraged.

C. Irrigation. Irrigation systems shall be designed to minimize the use of potable water resources.

1. Permitted Systems.

a. Drip irrigation systems fed from rainwater catchments are a permitted use in all zones providing the landscaping design is approved by the Zoning Commission.

b. Drip irrigation systems fed from the community water system are a permitted use in all zones providing that:

(1) The landscaping and irrigation system design specification provides for water usage calculated as follows:

(a) 0.1 gallon per month per square foot to be landscaped not to exceed a maximum of 1000 gallons per month when designing landscaping. Example: 100 gallons per month are allowed for 1000 square feet to be landscaped.

(b) For a maximum of four months while landscaping is getting established, 0.3 gallon per month per square foot to be landscaped not to exceed 3000 gallons per month.

(c) The area to be landscaped is defined as the area enclosed by a single line drawn around the outside boundary of all landscaping.

(d) Each property shall be allowed at least 400 gallons per month.

- (2) The landscaping and irrigation system design specifications in common areas in R-2 zones shall provide for water usage as calculated as follows:
  - (a) Common area(s) are required to be platted and recorded as owned in common by specific dwelling units. Landscaping and irrigation for multiple common areas under identical ownership shall be combined for the purposes of calculating permitted irrigation. Minimum and maximum allowances below shall be multiplied by the number of dwelling units.
  - (b) 0.1 gallon per month per square foot to be landscaped not to exceed a maximum of 500 gallons per month when designing landscaping.
  - (c) For a maximum of four months while landscaping is getting established, 0.3 gallon per month per square foot to be landscaped not to exceed 1,500 gallons per month.
  - (d) The area to be landscaped in each common area is defined as the area enclosed by a single line drawn around the outside boundary of all landscaping.
  - (e) At least 200 gallons per month shall be allowed for each dwelling unit.
  - (f) Examples:
    - (i) Minimum gallons: 10 dwelling units times 200 gallons per month equals the minimum of 2,000 gallons per month.
    - (ii) Maximum gallons: 10 dwelling units times 500 gallons per month equals the maximum of 5,000 gallons per month.

2. Prohibited Systems.

Broadcast irrigation systems and all other irrigation systems that are designed to apply more than the gallonage allowed under Permitted Systems.

3. System Requirements. All irrigation systems which are connected to the potable water system must meet the following additional requirements:

- a. An outside irrigation system shutoff (see definition) is required. The device shall be mounted outdoors adjacent to a driveway or walkway and shall be clearly marked.
- b. An automatic rain sensor (see definition) is required. The device shall be mounted outdoors where it will be exposed to unobstructed rainfall.
- c. Compliance with all Federal, State, and Water & Sanitation District regulations.
- d. Compliance with the New Mexico Plumbing Code.

4. Permit Requirements. The landscaping and irrigation system design must be submitted to the Zoning Commission for approval. The design must include the number, species, and size of plantings from the approved list to be irrigated together with the monthly water usage. Permit fees will be waived for the following:

- a. Installation of rainwater catchments.
- b. Conversion of any complete nonconforming irrigation system to a conforming irrigation system.

5. Nonconforming Irrigation Systems Amortization Provision.

- a. The Commission, during the period of development of this Ordinance, has become aware generally of the cost of installation of the nonconforming irrigation systems and their useful life. The commission has determined, based on facts known to them, that any remaining useful life of the non-conforming irrigation systems is no more than five years without significant repairs or renovation. The life span is in large measure related to calcification resulting from the very high mineral content of the water supply.
  - b. It is the objective of this ordinance that all nonconforming irrigation systems, existing as of the date of adoption of this ordinance, shall be brought into compliance with this ordinance not later than December 31, 2016. All nonconforming irrigation systems in existence after December 31, 2009 must comply with System Requirements set forth in 0 above.
  - c. Any nonconforming irrigation system, which is substantially damaged, destroyed, replaced, or redesigned, shall be brought into conformity with this ordinance.

  - 6. Two guest maximum per bedroom.
  - 7. Other items may be added from time to time to address particular community concerns.

- E. Permit Term and Revocation. The Short Term Rental Permit shall remain in force for a period of five years unless revoked. Complaints that are not resolved and are brought to the attention of the Zoning District may result in a letter to the owner or owner representative requesting written agreement to resolve the nature of the complaint. If there is a future complaint within a six-month period, revocation of the permit may result. Consideration for reinstatement will require a new Permit application and the appearance of the owner (or owner representative) at a regular meeting of the Zoning District.
- F. Enforcement and Penalties. The provisions set forth above for Short-Term Rentals are in addition to all other R-1 and R-2 Zone requirements of the Alto Lakes Special Zoning District Comprehensive Land Use Ordinance. - B. Applications. The Property Owners or properly designated representative shall initiate the process by filing an Application for a Variance, Conditional or Special Use Permit, or submit a Replat application. While it is strongly suggested that the applicant have an informal discussion with the Zoning Commission before filing an application in order to be advised of any requirements or policies relevant to the request, applicant is solely responsible for meeting the requirements of the ordinance. Each application shall include all information required by the Commission's Application Handbook. Inaccurate or incomplete information may cause a delay in the hearing process.
- C. Hearing. A public hearing is required for all Applications for Variances, Conditional Use Permits, and Appeals. Hearings shall be held in accordance with the hearing and notice provisions below:
1. The applicant shall place public notice in one newspaper of general circulation in Lincoln County at least fifteen days prior to the hearing.
  2. Notice of the public hearing shall be mailed by the applicant, at least fifteen days prior to the hearing, by certified mail, return receipt requested to the owners, as shown by the public records of the Lincoln County, of lots within two hundred (200) feet, excluding public rights-of-way, for which application is made. If the requested action permits more than one building, the notification radius shall be increased to three hundred (300) feet, excluding public rights-of-way, of the boundary of the lot for which application is made. If the requested action is for improvements within the buffer area in the CC-C Zone, the notification radius shall be calculated as three hundred (300) feet from the boundary of the improvements.
  3. The applicant shall be responsible for locating the persons entitled to notice.
  4. When any of the lots immediately beyond the radius described herein is under the same ownership as the property that is the subject of the application, the owner of the lot(s) next adjacent, excluding public rights-of-way, shall be notified.
  5. All persons having an interest in the Application shall be given an opportunity to be heard at the hearing. Written comments will be considered by the Commission however the Commission is not required to accept written comments as having a basis in evidence unless the author is present to be questioned.
  6. Applicant shall provide to the Commission, an Affidavit of Publication, a list of property owners required to be notified, and receipts for all mailed notices.
- D. Burden of Proof. The applicant bears the burden of proving that special circumstances exist to justify its granting. If the applicant fails to comply with the Zoning District Commission's requirements, fails to appear at a hearing, or requests deferment of the hearing for more than sixty days past the date set in the published notice and/or written notice to property owners, the application shall be deemed to have expired.
- E. Variances.
1. Generally. Variances from the terms of the Zoning Ordinance shall be granted only when, because of special circumstances applicable to the property, including size, shape, topography, location or surroundings, the strict application of the Ordinance deprives such property of privileges enjoyed by other property in the vicinity and under identical zoning classification. Variances may only be granted for hardships related to the physical characteristics of land providing that:

- a. There are specific physical circumstances that distinguish the project site from its surroundings; and
- b. These unique circumstances would create an unnecessary hardship for the applicant if the usual zoning standards were imposed.

2. Limitations on Variances.

- a. A variance does not change the zoning of the project site. It cannot permit uses other than those already allowed under existing zoning.
- b. Variances are limited to those situations where the peculiar physical characteristics of a site make it difficult to develop under standard regulations. A variance is granted in order to bring the disadvantaged property up to the level of use enjoyed by nearby properties in the same zone. For instance, where the steep rear portion of a residential lot makes the site otherwise undevelopable, a variance might be approved to reduce the front yard setback and thereby create sufficient room for a home on the lot. Similarly, a parcel's shape might preclude construction of a garage unless side yard setback requirements are reduced by approval of a variance.
- c. Variances are only for use in unusual, individual circumstances. There is no basis for granting a variance if the circumstances of the project site cannot be distinguished from those on surrounding lots. For example, all things being equal, in a subdivision where lots are uniformly 40 feet wide, there is no basis for allowing one lot to be developed with reduced side yard setbacks.
- d. If development within a particular area is commonly leading to requests for consideration of variances, then the District should reassess the standards of the applicable zone and, if necessary, change them.
- e. Setback variances shall be limited for a specified intrusion into the setback and not for the entire setback.

3. Requirements. Variances are granted only when all of the following findings can be made:

- a. Unique Circumstance. That because of special circumstances applicable to the property, including size, shape, topography, location or surroundings, the strict application of the requirements of the Zoning Ordinance deprives such property of privileges enjoyed by other property in the vicinity and under identical zoning classification. A Variance cannot be granted for a self-imposed hardship.
- b. No Special Privilege. That the Variance will not constitute a grant of special privileges inconsistent with the limitations upon other properties in the vicinity and zoning district in which such property is situated. In other words, the Variance is necessary to enjoy a basic property right available to other similarly zoned properties in the vicinity.
- c. No Unauthorized Use. The Variance does not authorize a use or activity that is not otherwise expressly authorized by the zoning regulations for the zoning district in which the subject property is located. A Variance cannot be granted to the Zoning Ordinance land use regulations.

d. No Adverse Impacts. The Variance will not be detrimental or injurious to property or improvements in the vicinity of the development site, or to the public health, safety, or general welfare.

4. Approval. Approval of Variances shall require a majority vote of the members of the Zoning Commission present. If approved, the Commission shall be required to make findings supporting its decision. If an application is denied, the denial shall constitute a finding that the applicant has not shown that the conditions required for approval exist. No application for a Variance which has been denied wholly or in part shall be resubmitted for a period of six months from the date of the order of denial, except on grounds of new evidence or proof of change of conditions found to be valid by the Zoning Commission.

F. Conditional or Special Use Permits.

1. Generally. Certain Conditional Uses, as defined for each Zone defined by the Ordinance, may, under certain circumstances, be acceptable. When such circumstances exist, a Conditional Use Permit may be granted. The permit may be issued for a specified period of time, with automatic cancellation at the end of that time unless it is renewed, or conditions may be applied to the issuance of the permit and periodic review may be required. The permit shall be granted for a particular use and not for a particular person.
2. Limitations on Conditional Use Permits. No conditional use permit shall be given for a use that is not listed as a conditional use in the particular Zone in which it is proposed to be located. The Zoning Commission shall consider the effect of the proposed use upon the health, safety and general welfare of occupants of surrounding lands, existing and anticipated traffic conditions, including parking facilities, on adjacent streets and land, the impact upon the natural environment, and the effect of the proposed use upon the Land Use Plan. The Zoning Commission may grant the application by motion, imposing such conditions and safeguards as it deems necessary, or it may deny the application. In reviewing conditional uses in residential areas, the Zoning Commission shall consider particularly the response of adjoining property owners.
3. Approval. Approval of Conditional Use Permits shall require a majority vote of the members of the Zoning Commission present. If approved, the Commission shall be required to make findings supporting its decision. If an application is denied, the denial shall constitute a finding that the applicant has not shown that the conditions required for approval exist. No application for a conditional use permit which has been denied wholly or in part shall be resubmitted for a period of six months from the date of the order of denial, except on grounds of new evidence or proof of change of conditions found to be valid by the Zoning Commission.

G. Replat Permits (lot combinations, adjacent property boundary adjustments, easements, etc.)

1. Generally. All replats, adjacent property boundary adjustments, and/or conveyances of surface property by easement shall be presented in writing and submitted to the Alto Lakes Special Zoning Commission.
  - a. Allowed lot combinations within ALSZD:
    - (1) The combining of one or more contiguous adjacent lots, all with common ownership, into a single lot, such that only one larger lot will remain.
    - (2) The combining of a vacant lot, by division between two adjacent lot owners, with the middle vacant lot divided in any proportion that equals 100 percent (i.e., 50/50, 60/40, 70/30, etc.) with the adjacent lots thereby forming two larger lots.

- (3) Combinations may result in the expansion of the District, however a combination may not result in the decrease of the size of the ALSZD District.
  - (4) All replat fees are the responsibility of the owner(s) combining lots. No lot may be combined resulting in less than a 100% combination. No lot may be subdivided into a smaller parcel, nor sold in less than 100% of the original size.
- b. Set back restrictions:
- The more restrictive lot setbacks of the two lots shall apply to the replat of the combined lots. Reduction of setbacks due to lot combination is not allowed.
- c. Zoning Restrictions:
- (1) The more restrictive zoning designation will apply to the replat combination.
  - (2) If lot adjustment involves an adjoining lot having zoning other than R-1, (i.e., R-2 MultiFamily Residential Zone, C-N Neighborhood Commercial Zone, C-CC Country Club Commercial Zone, or CS Community Services Zone), and the division percentage of that lot (i.e., 50/50, 60/40, 70/30) is requesting a higher zoning use, the replat must be presented to ALSZD per the "Variance" process as outlined in Section 29 of the ALSZD Ordinance.
  - (3) If lot is zoned R-1 Single-Family Residential, and the other lot is otherwise zoned, the new lot combinations would both be Zoned as R-1, or application may additionally be made for a change in Zoning via the Variance process as outlined in Section 29 of the ALSZD Ordinance.
- d. Adjacent Property Boundary Adjustments.
- (1) May be used to resolve boundary line disputes, correct physical encroachments, provide reasonable access, or meet buffer or setback requirements.
  - (2) May not be used to create any new parcel(s), nor result in the potential to create a new parcel(s) or residential development in excess of the maximum density allowed by the ALSZD Comprehensive Zoning and Land Use Ordinance Zoning Map
  - (3) The adjustment shall not allow previously approved parcels or developments to violate conditions of approval, or to become out of compliance or further out of compliance with existing land use.
2. The Replat and Adjacent Property Boundary Adjustment Review Process shall be as follows: a.

Applications

- 1) Each application shall be filed in accordance with the requirements and schedules set forth in Commission's Application Handbook
  - 2) While the Commission will provide assistance to the applicant in filing applications, the applicant is solely responsible for meeting the requirements of the ordinance.
  - 3) No replat survey, lot splits, and or conveyance of surface property by easement shall be filed of record with Lincoln County Clerk without application and approval of the ALSZD Commission.
  - 4) Inaccurate or incomplete information may cause a delay in the Approval process
- b. Plats. All applications for Zoning District Permits shall be accompanied by a plat, showing with dimensions the lot lines, side, front, and rear setbacks, both in existence and proposed,
